BOARD OFFICIAL WILL DEDICATE NEW STRUCTURE

Special Program Will Honor
Erection Of School In Visitation Valley

The new Visitation Valley School and Auditorium, located at Schwerin street and Visitation avenue, will be dedicated at 1:15 p. m., Sunday.

Charles H. Eisenhut will be chairman of the day, and C. Harold Caulfield, president of the San Francisco Board of Education, will be the speaker. Children of the school will take an active part in the program. Music for this occasion will be furnished in San Francisco by the new Public Works Building program. The spacious new school with its beautiful auditorium is the third school to be built on the present site.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements are George H. Allen, Mrs. M. Ashton, Mrs. G. Bauman, Mrs. F. Calverley, Mrs. L. Cramer, Miss F. Friedman, Charles A. Louis, Mrs. P. Lynch, Miss M. A. Nolan, Mrs. H. Nutter, Mrs. F. Olson, E. Restani, Miss B. Salma, Mrs. William Shaw, Mrs. L. Teter and Miss G. White.

BRISBANE UNIT TO HEAR WOMAN DISCUSS SAFETY

"Safe Living Is Peaceful Living" Will Be Topic
Of Thursday Speech

The Brisbane P. T. A. will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, at 8, in the school auditorium.

Chairman Phil Sbriglia of the safety committee, will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Holbrook Bonney, Seventeenth District chairman, will be the speaker. Mrs. Bonney has recently been instrumental in furthering safety throughout San Mateo County. Her topic will be, "Safe Living Is Peaceful Living."

The Brisbane traffic boys will give a traffic demonstration.

The executive board will attend the northern conference at the Jefferson Union High School, November 4, at 1:30.

Last year this conference proved beneficial to those attending.

Mrs. Gertha McKinney, president of the Brisbane unit, urges all who are interested in child welfare to be present.

The annual Parent Teacher Association bundle drive, in charge of Mrs. Thelma Van Kirk, proved successful. She wishes to thank all who have taken such an interest in this work. If there are any in need—communicate with the chairman.

HURRICANE WILL BEGIN AT GEARY

The first picture of road show proportions selected by the Geary Theater management for presentation this year is Samuel Goldwyn's "$1,500,000 production, "Hurricane."

From all reports, no picture released this year compares in striking massiveness to "Hurricane," which will be simultaneously at the Astor Theater, New York, and the Geary Theater, San Francisco, a few weeks hence.

A cast of unusual proportions, headed by Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall, will be seen in the production.

Woman Accused Of Hit and Run

Chased down by Menlo Park police after her car assertedly struck the machine of a Bay Meadows official, Friday last week, Mrs. Frances Kramer, 43, of San Francisco, was held at the county jail, charged with hit and run and drunk driving.

She admitted to officers she had consumed four cans of beer before she started for San Francisco.

Gov. Proclaims Education Week

Governor Frank F. Merriam, Tuesday of this week, proclaimed American Education Week, beginning November 7.

Declaring public education to be the "corner stone of American democracy," Governor Merriam called on all Californians to observe the period in fitting manner.

LABORER FOUND DEAD ON TRACKS AT DALY CITY

Body of Paul Woods Riddled
With Shot; Police Term
Case "Suicide"

Two switchmen found the body of Paul Woods, 32, of 3837 Twentieth street, San Francisco, in a lot at the foot of Hillcrest drive, west of the railroad tracks, Monday morning of this week at 8 o'clock. The switchmen, Jesus Mata, 400 Visitation avenue, and Basilio Pelligrini, 272 Delano street, notified Chief of Police James G. Reardon, who relayed the word to the coroner.

Near the body was found a 410 gauge shot gun and a box of shells. A gaping wound in the groin led to the belief that Woods was a suicide.

His widow resides at 84 Cayuga avenue in San Francisco. The couple had been estranged.

Woods was employed at the Pacific Foundry in San Francisco. An inquest is pending.

Police Demoralized By Cross Current Calls For Snacks

The police of Racine, Wis., have sent in a complaint to the effect that the Alameda police radio came in on their wave band and most of the Bay town's calls were for sandwiches.

These calls, they affirm, make the men on their own force hungry.

San Mateo Man Is Struck Down

Hiram Lee Irwin, 320 Del Mar way, San Mateo, was standing beside the highway in front of the Hotel Inn in Bakersfield, where he was registered, when a car traveling at high speed struck him, Friday evening of last week.

The victim's leg was broken and he was taken to a hospital, while patrol officers sought in vain for the hit and run driver.

YANK LAZZERI TO MANAGE CUBS?

TONI LAZZERI

Toni Lazzeri, New York Yankee hero of the 1937 World Series, is being discussed as possible manager for the Chicago Cubs in 1938. That the Cub berth is open for Lazzeri in California publicly intimated that the National League club was seeking to get in touch with Toni at his Millbrae, Calif., home. Lazzeri was non-committal about it all and declined to discuss his future major league activities.

Oregon Entry In F. D. R. Turkey Contest

Two attractive Wilsonville, Ore., farmettes, Phyllis Leedy (left) and Natalie Neer, are pictured selecting a prize bird from Oregon's famed turkey crop to represent their state in the forthcoming Northwestern Turkey Growers' Association champion-ships. The finals will be held in Salt Lake City next month. Birds from fourteen states will compete in the finals. The winner will grace the Thanksgiving dinner table at the White House.

FIVE ARRESTED FOR THROWING ROCKS IN CITY

Men Are Booked at Local Headquarters Following
Stoning Spree

Five employees of the Municipal Railway were arrested in a Daly City tavern after an alleged rock throwing episode in San Francisco, Friday evening of last week. They are at large on bail, facing charges of malicious mischief. The preliminary hearing is set for tomorrow.

The men are said to have hurled stones from an automobile through windows of three chain restaurants and then "bombarded" the Northern and Ingleside police stations.

The fugitive car was sighted by two San Francisco officers and trailed to the Bijou Tavern in Daly City, where the men were apprehended.

The alleged rock throwers, according to officers, declared they staged the demonstration because they resented the attitude of police during the recent maritime strike.

Booked at Daly City police headquarters and later taken to San Francisco, the men, Martin Wormuth, 32; Edward Grant, 32; Richard O'Connor, 30; William McRobbie, 31, and Edward Murphy, 31, were suspended from their jobs pending an investigation of the charges.

Young Attorney Is Killed Instantly In Highway Crash

One man was instantly killed and two were injured in a head-on crash on the Bayshore Highway just north of South San Francisco, Friday evening of last week.

William C. Crim, 35, of San Mateo, prominent San Francisco attorney, died beneath his overturned sedan. Bert Dering, musician and driver of the machine that collided with Crim's automobile, and Derald Rexford were injured in the accident.

Dering said a south bound car, a brown coupe, swerved directly in front of him, forcing him into the way of the death car.

Druggist Stocks Store With Paint

That drug stores these days deal in everything from baby buggies to eye droppers is common knowledge. People expect it.

Even so, when William J. Jonas—local real estate man and, incidentally, a pharmacist—stocked his drug store with house paint last week, people naturally lifted their eyebrows.

Jonas, however, defends his move on grounds of precedent. "The first druggists, the alchemists," he declares, "considered it their special function to supply their public with paint—with pigments ground and mixed in their own mortars."

MOVE IS MADE TO BRING BASE TO WEST BAY

Chamber of Commerce Leaders
To Consider Naval Site
Campaign Plans Today

A united drive by residents and business men to bring the proposed $15,000,000 naval supply base to San Mateo and San Francisco Counties is under way.

Direct action on the project will be mapped at a luncheon at 12:15 o'clock today at Jackson's restaurant, 1465 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame, sponsored by the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce.

Chambers of commerce of nearly all San Mateo County cities are to be represented at the meeting.

Proposed site for the base on the Peninsula is between Hunter's Point and Chandlestick Point. This site would lie partially in San Mateo County and partially in San Francisco County.

Campaigners give as their central argument for the base on the San Mateo side of the Bay the easy availability of the drinking and domestic water supplies. The source of water in this region is in the Hetch Hetchy, the water originating from the snow capped Sierra.

Another advantage seen by interested parties is the immediacy of the proposed site to anchorage locations of the fleet.

Officers Discovers "How It Feels" To Have Auto Stolen

One of State Highway Patrolman John Hanlon's duties is to run down culprits who steal other people's cars. Early this week his own car was stolen in South San Francisco.

And now the officer is enthusiastically searching for the thieves who "took themselves for a ride" in his new automobile, parked it in a lonely road behind Tanforan Race-track and stripped it of five tires, radio and water heater.

Reach Agreement On Water Question

The Board of Fire Commissioners of Bayshore and the water committee of the City Council met in a friendly session, Monday evening, to discuss stand-by charges in the Diamond Public Utility District.

It was mutually agreed that the Fire District would pay $2 each month for six hydrants in the Track and $4.05 monthly for a meter charge.

The water committee agreed that after certain obligations to a legal firm were paid off, stand-by charges both in the Diamond and Schwerin tracks would be reduced to $1.50 monthly. Consequently a warrant was drawn by the commissioners for $128, settling all claims of the Diamond District.

Teachers May Take Constitution Exam.

Miss Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools, has announced that the Board of Education of San Mateo County will conduct an examination on the Constitution, Saturday, November 13, at 10 a. m., in the Central School at Redwood City.

This examination will be open to all teachers who need to meet the legal requirements for certification.

OREGON WOMAN IS STRUCK BY CAR ON MISSION

Victim Is Taken To Hospital
In Daly City By Driver;
Treated For Minor Hurts

A pedestrian was struck by a car and slightly injured at Mission street and Central avenue in Daly City, late Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Fred Gianotti, 37, of 798 Naples street, San Francisco, driver of the machine, told local officers Mrs. Muriel McCaulon, 35, of Nappa, Oregon, started to cross Mission and then turned back in front of his auto.

Gianotti conveyed the woman to the Villa Sanitarium, where she was treated for abrasions and a sprained ankle.

On the request of Mrs. McCaulon, who has been staying in a local auto court, the driver was not held by police.

Have Close Call When Auto Burns

Five Oakland persons saw the face of death in a roaring inferno as their car suddenly burst into flames on the Bayshore Highway, south of Redwood City, Friday evening of last week. They escaped without injury.

Mrs. Sadie A. Dougherty, 48, of 3018 Seventy-third, Oakland, the driver, stopped the car when flames leaped up from the floorboards and she and her four companions fled to safety.

Ex-Coast Leaguer Heads Cleveland

OSCAR VITT

Appointed manager of the Cleveland Baseball Club by President Alva Bradley, Oscar Vitt, former manager of the Oakland Club of the Pacific Coast League, will replace Steve O'Neill. More recently the popular Oaklander managed the Newark, N. J., club of the International League. The replacement of O'Neill came after months of uncertainty over O'Neill's status.

FIREMEN ASSERT INDEPENDENCE IN SPECIAL SESSION

Conclave Resolves To Exclude Women Hereafter From Social Gatherings

Members of the Bayshore Volunteer Fire Department Social Club met, last Monday evening, to discuss various matters of importance to the group.

Main feature of the evening was the voting out of a previous action to hold a party for the ladies.

Leaders in the movement were the married men of the club who were vehement in their protestations that the "ladies are O. K. in their places, but let's keep this organization inviolate of them and a sanctuary where we boys can come and be ourselves for a change.

Single men of the club were of the opinion that it would be nice to entertain the girls now and then; however, the married ones proved to be too much. Consequently the "boys" will hold a feed next week some night (providing they can get out), strictly stag, and the ladies will stay at home and twiddle their thumbs.

This is one of the most critical problems to ever arise in Bayshore and most likely will rock the very foundations of some of the homes hereabouts.

STRANGLED AS CAR OVERTURNS

Strangulation under an overturned car near Half Moon Bay, ended the life of a San Franciscan, last Sunday evening.

The dead man was Louis Mar-raccini, 40, of 427½ Paris street. Rounding a curve in the highway five miles north of the coast town, the car went out of control and struck a concrete bridge abutment, overturning at the culvert. Marraccini, riding on the right side of the car, was partially thrown out as the car went over, only to have the machine come to rest on its side with the victim caught in the door, his head protruding and his body inside.

His two companions—Val Paoletti, 44, of 933 Delores street, driver, and Guilio Reani, 33, of 321 Pierce street—were able to crawl out, but they could not extricate Marraccini, who quickly expired.

ATTEND MEETING OF RED CROSS

Bert Werder, fire warden of San Mateo County, attended the meeting of the executive committee of the San Mateo County Chapter, American Red Cross, accompanied by Ernest Werder and Roy Ruis, members of his department.

Mr. Werder came to present a deputy fire warden's badge to Miss Helen Percy Chesebrough, vice chairman of the chapter. This badge, made of gold and bearing an enameled pine tree with a small red cross imposed on it, is a gift from Mr. Werder and the members of his department, given in recognition of the work done by the Canteen and Motor Corps of the chapter in preparing food for the men fighting forest fires. This activity was started fifteen years ago, when organized volunteer service was instituted in the chapter.

Will Go On Trial On Murder Charge

Charged with the murder of Mrs. Mary Camilla Smith in South San Francisco, June 8, 1936, Michael L. Milligan will go on trial, November 9. The date was set, Monday afternoon of this week, by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt in Redwood City.

Last week Milligan stood mute when asked to plead, and the court entered an automatic plea of "not guilty."

PLANS REUNION

Four hundred members of the U. C. Glee Club will celebrate days of Brick Morse, this evening.

READY TO BRING YOU RELIEF IN MINUTES

THE REASON BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a tumbler of water.
By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating.
This speed of disintegration enables genuine BAYER Aspirin tablets to start "taking hold" of headache and similar pain a few minutes after taking.

YOU can pay as high as you want for remedies claimed to relieve the pain of Headache, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Sciatica, etc. But the medicine so many doctors generally approve—the one used by thousands of families daily—is Bayer Aspirin—15¢ a dozen tablets—about 1¢ apiece. Simply take 2 Bayer Aspirin tablets with a half glass of water. Repeat, if necessary, according to directions.

Usually this will ease such pain in a remarkably short time. For quick relief from such pain which exhausts you and keeps you awake at night—ask for genuine Bayer Aspirin.

Random Items Make This Gridiron Show Bit More Confusing

JUST to make this game of football more confusing:
Rio Grande junior college is in Ohio. Dixie college is in Utah. Virginia college is in Minnesota. Kansas has a Pittsburg Teachers' college.

There are three Loyolas (Maryland, Louisiana, California). St. Marys exist in the same proportion (California, Texas and Michigan), not to forget Mount St. Mary's college of Maryland. There are Xaviers in New Orleans and Cincinnati. Iowa has Cornell college and Columbia college to rival the somewhat better-known institutions in New York state.

Purdue in its first seven games plays teams from seven states, meeting Indiana opponents only in its first and last contests. Princeton meets only one New Jersey foe in eight games with teams from eight states. Yale tops them all off, playing no teams from Connecticut, its home state.

Centenary college is playing teams from six states in twelve games, playing in three different states on three successive Saturdays against Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. Penn State plays five Pennsylvania opponents in eight games.

Woodrow Wilsons are becoming a fad. In 1934 the El Paso School of Mines had a W. W. as quarterback and captain. In 1936 Denton Teachers and Ohio U. had Woodrow Wilsons as players, while Army's presidential namesake will be in action again this year.

This indicates that about 1952 the gridiron rosters will be filled with names of "Franklin Delano Roosevelt," Ginsburgs, Schimmelpennings and Bradleys.

Pitt appears to have only five alumni in the head coaching ranks, Jock Sutherland at Pitt, Lloyd Jordan at Amherst, Bill Kern at Carnegie Tech, Harvey Harman at Penn and Jack Harding at Miami. Little Springfield of Massachusetts has at least ten graduates coaching college teams, including Carl A. Davis whose Cortland Teachers college (N. Y.) elevens have lost only two games in five years.

Little College Grads Coach Big Time Teams

Football powers having little college graduates for their coaches include:
Colgate, which has Andy Kerr from Dickinson college in Pennsylvania.

Cornell, coached by Carl Snively from Lebanon Valley college.
Louisiana State, coached by Bernie Moore from Carson-Newman college in Tennessee.

Texas, coached by Dana X. Bible of Carson-Newman.
Indiana, coached by Bo McMillan of Centre college in Kentucky.
Southern Methodist, coached by Madison Matty Bell from Centre college.

California, coached by L. B. Allison of Carleton college, Minnesota.
California Tech, coached by W. L. Stanton of Dickinson college, Pa.
Brown, coached by D. O. McLaughry of Westminster college, Pa.

California U. at Berkeley is playing 11 games this season and playing the same teams as last year. Bowdoin, Carnegie Tech, Grinnell college and Kansas U. also are playing the same opponents as in 1936. George Washington has dropped five 1936 foes, including Emory and Henry, Elon, Rice, Davis and Elkins and Catawba. The 1937 Haskell schedule includes seven teams not played last year.

Coach Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern has a junior college namesake, Waldorf J. C. of Iowa.

"E's" comprise one half of the Drake coach's name, Vee Green.

Colleges that seem to have sought mainly names include: Alfred, New York; Alva, Oklahoma; Arnold, Connecticut; Austin, Texas; Edmond, Oklahoma; Hiram, Ohio; Luther, Iowa.

Also there is a Howard college in Alabama, a Howard university in Washington, D. C., and Howard Payne in Texas.

And for all of this information you can render thanks to a modest Pennsylvania gentleman who does upon digging up such data for this department each season.

NOT IN THE BOX SCORE:

HENRY HAMMOND, Chicago Bears end, has had two noses made from his own ribs. He was born without any proboscis and recently the artificial one was broken so badly that another had to be constructed—Middleweight Solly Kreiger is busily seeking the 2,000 signatures which will enable him to enter the Kings County City Councilman race—Bert Nichols, home pro, held the competitive-course record of 69 for 14 years, yet failed to qualify in the Belmont Onen—On Thompson street, a bit off Washington square, there is a Di Maggio block. The signs on three stores, side by side, read "Di Maggio, Meats; Di Maggio, Candies and Cigars; Di Maggio, Groceries."

A syndicate of Americans will try to persuade Cubans to go to the dogs next winter. They will operate a greyhound racing track in Havana—Dog men, by the way, marvel at the almost human intelligence shown by Court Jester, who already has won $20,000 in purses. Instead of running to his handler's blanket after races are over as other dogs do, Court Jester proudly parades in front of the grandstand. Receives his acclaim with obvious pleasure, too—Boston's Wonderland park is the busiest dog track in the country, with the average attendance being 16,000 and the average betting being $187,000 for 62 nights—The record dog-racing crowd was the 80,000 at London's White City derby this year.

Carnegie Tech, once a leader in football de-emphasis, has gone back on the big time with a bang. With proper sanction a group of alumni handed out $600 scholarships for outstanding athletic and scholastic ability, thereby giving young Coach Bill Kern some chance to compete in the tough Pittsburgh market. It is just as well that the alumni thought about it, too. The Carnegie schedule contains scarcely a breathing space for the performers.

When Waite Hoyt joined the Dodgers, he thought Hamburger, real name of the club's young road secretary, was a nickname. Hamburger was the clubhouse boy then and played to send him across the street for hot dogs—Friends say Jackie Kid Berg, the English lightweight who made a fortune in the ring, has blown it all on the races—Matchmaker Johnny Attell hands out cards to boxing fans at Ridge-wood Grove requesting them to suggest the matches they wish to be made.

In spite of lukewarm official denials Bostonians insist that Joe Cronin is none too certain of retaining his Red Sox managing job... Open Champion Ralph Guldahl is dicker for a movie contract in England which may keep him out of golf until next summer... Ed Walker, coach of the Mississippi eleven that is coming east to play Temple, starred under Pop Warner at Stanford and is a brother of the Temple frosh coach... Noble Kizer of Purdue, who has had to give up football coaching for a year because of ill health, is improving steadily and plans to visit Chicago before leaving for the South where he and his family will spend the winter.

Croy Celtic, Scottish, Junior (soccer) club, has a forward line consisting entirely of Quinns. Three of them are sons of the celebrated Jimmy Quinn, who played for Glasgow Celtic and Scotland 30 years or so ago. The other two are Jimmy's nephews—Pat Whelan, former American A. star who coached the celebrated Skiba brothers trio of Brookhatsans fame, is the man who interested Mike Griffin in getting that $85,000 soccer stadium for Bayonne—Philadelphians say that although Temple's Pop Warner looks as though he didn't have a dime he probably is football's wealthiest coach. They add that, although he hates to have it mentioned, he probably gives more money away in a week than the average guy does in a year, often to old Carlisle Indians.

Tony Canzoneri has become a dyed-in-the-wool racing fan... The new Hollywood, Fla., racetrack will ask for the same dates as Hialeah park next winter, and won't there be fun then... Joseph E. Widener, who spends so much time parading his pretty flamingoes at Hialeah that he can devote little courtesy to his paying or writing guests, wishes mean mens wouldn't call him Flamingo Joe... Give a boost to Connie Ballentine. At Princeton they're saying the fellow is another John Weller and may prove even better in the line this fall.

The first intercollegiate gridiron contest between teams from the North and South was in 1889, when Lehigh whipped Virginia, 24 to 12... Yale has had three perfect football seasons... Its 1888, 1892, and 1909 elevens went through the schedule without a defeat or a tie and without having a point scored against them.

Marshall Newell of Harvard, Truxton Hare of Pennsylvania, and Frank Hinkey and Gordon Brown of Yale made Walter Camp's All-American team four years in a row... Marquette tied Notre Dame three successive years—1909, 1910, and 1911—but was overwhelmed, 68 to 0, the following season... Harvard's football stadium is the oldest in the United States... It dates back to November 14, 1903.

Keeping Up With Science By Science Service

Famed Ancient Colors Bettered by Modern Dye Manufacturers

Tyrian Purple and Blue of Egypt Are Debunked

New York.—Our modern age is sometimes criticized for doing things in a big way. We turn out paints by the vat; dyes by the carload. It is supposed to be a sad change from the good old days when Egyptians mixed colors that would last 4,000 years, and when Tyrians patiently extracted drops of royal purple from shellfish.

But chemists who concoct our up-to-date colors can well defend themselves. They long ago investigated the Tyrian purple legend and showed that this famous dye is no regrettable lost art.

True, the dye makers of Tyre achieved a sort of miracle by milking thousands of snail-like shellfish to get the lone whitish drop from each head. In the air the white stuff turned green, then blue, then purple. Finally, set by alkali, it became the crimson that Tyrian purple actually appeared.

Our Chemists Do Better.

But, the chemists explain, the only reason debutantes and shop-girls aren't wearing royal purple today is because better crimson dyes are known. Laboratories could make it by the ton, but you wouldn't buy it.

It is the same with the famous Egyptian blue used in decorating walls in Egypt, and later in Rome.

Recently, research scientists for a printing ink corporation tested this blue, because of its reputation for permanency. Gently handling specimens of Roman wall painting, they analyzed the blue color by a spectro-photometer. They found the Egyptian blue a good deal like modern ultramarine. It was fast to light, heat, salt water, and mild acids. But—it did not come up to modern standards.

Men Not Born Equal, Study of Primitive Races Evidences

New York.—All men are not born equal. Scientific evidence, long lacking or insufficient, now points to genuine mental differences between races apart from the more superficial superiority that results from advantageous geographic location, proximity to other peoples, and a background of culture or civilization.

It has been natural to suppose that men differ from each other mentally as they do in the more obvious matters of skin color, shape of nose, or curliness of hair. But procuring scientific proof of such differences was a stupendous task.

The test with which an American child is given an I. Q. rating is obviously not suited to an adult African Bushman. Written tests are automatically barred for the illiterate.

So-called performance tests are almost equally useless. The uncivilized man cannot understand the directions necessary, the pictures are meaningless to him.

A new attack is provided by comparing two primitive peoples not with civilized man but with each other. Dr. S. D. Porteus, psychologist widely known for his psychological maze tests, has gone to the desert wastes of central Australia and to the home of the Kalahari Bushmen in South Africa.

Despite better food and water supply and easier living conditions, the Bushmen excelled the environmentally unfavored Australian aborigines in only two respects, Dr. Porteus reports in a new book, "Primitive Intelligence and Environment," (Macmillan). They offer more determined resistance to white invaders and they are more skillful artistically.

Cinnamon Trees Grew in Texas Many Years Ago
Stephenville, Texas.—Cinnamon trees once grew in what is now Texas, millions of years ago, when there were dinosaurs to browse on their leaves.

A group of fossils which include leaves of plants like cinnamon, sassafras, sarsaparilla, and maple, found near here, are described by Prof. O. M. Ball of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas in the Journal of Geology.

CALIFORNIA News of the Week

Low Fire Loss
Sonoma.—Damage from fire in the Stanislaus National Forest this year amounted to but $55—the lowest in years—according to the report of the Supervising Ranger's Office here.

Farley Dedicates Tulare Postoffice
Tulare.—Postmaster - General Farley dedicated the cornerstone of the new $63,000 postoffice building under construction here. Farley came to Tulare from San Francisco, where he spoke at the national postmasters' convention.

Famed Old Miner Dies
Bakersfield.—Rudolph Hagen, 86, one of the most romantic figures of the old West, is dead. Hagen, who once dug nuggets as big as hens' eggs, was the owner of placer claims and resort holdings in Red Rock Canyon, Mojave desert scenic resort.

Schools Exempt from Milk Law
Sacramento.—Public and private schools are not bound by the law requiring taverns and restaurants to serve milk in bottles, Attorney General Webb ruled. Answering a query of Director of Agriculture A. A. Brock, Webb said schools should be bound by the health regulations but the law failed to include them.

Fire Sweeps Town of Beckwourth
Quincy.—Fire destroyed the hotel and several buildings in historic Beckwourth, 40 miles east of here. Beckwourth is a commercial feeder for the Sierra Valley agricultural area, and is situated amidst much sage brush. The town was named in honor of James P. Beckwourth, the pioneer day discoverer of Beckwourth Pass over the high Sierra.

Brites Lose Gallows Appeal
San Francisco.—The California Supreme Court upheld the conviction and death sentence for John H. Brites and Coke T. Brites, brothers, for the murder of three men in the mountains of Siskiyou County last year. The shooting victims, Martin Lance and Joseph Clark, deputy sheriffs, and Fred Seaborn, were killed when they attempted to arrest the Brites on an assault charge.

Red Cross Picks San Francisco
San Francisco.—This city will be host to 2,500 Red Cross leaders next May 2 to 5, inclusive. Announcement that the 1938 convention would be held here came from Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the American Red Cross. This will be the first national convention of the organization held on the West Coast and the decision to hold it here follows a recommendation adopted at the last convention in the national capital.

State Accepts Payment in Oil Case
Sacramento.—State Finance Director Arlin E. Stockburger announced the State has accepted $518,628.04 from the Standard Oil Company and associates in settlement for the oil and gas taken by those concerns in the past from the State owned tidelands at Huntington Beach, Orange County. The settlement agreement has been among the most controversial questions before the California Legislature for the last several sessions.

39 Show Horses Die in Flames
San Mateo.—Thirty-nine blooded show horses perished in a fire of undetermined origin which swept the stables of the San Mateo Gymkhana Club at an estimated loss of $70,000. Only seven of the 46 horses quartered in the stables escaped the blaze. Stablemen and nearby residents risked their lives in valiant attempts to save the imprisoned and fear-maddened animals. They succeeded in leading a number to safety, only to see some of the panic-stricken animals dash back into the flames.

State Senator Sued for Divorce
Sonoma.—Dan E. Williams, State Senator from Tuolumne County, is defendant in a suit for divorce filed by Mrs. Lydia C. Williams, who charged him with cruelty and associating with another woman. The filing of the action followed a recent announcement from Sacramento that Senator Williams may have forfeited his office by establishing a residence in Idaho. He filed a divorce suit at Moscow last August 25. Under section 996 of the political code, State offices are declared vacant when office holders cease to be inhabitants of California.

Kill 300-Pound Deer
Red Bluff.—A deer killed near Paynes Creek, Tehama County, is believed to be one of the largest bucks killed in northern California. The deer, a pure blacktail, weighed 192 pounds when drawn, with head, legs and hide removed. It was estimated to have weighed approximately 300 pounds. The four-horned specimen was bagged by Jack Seltenrich and O. M. Corbett, both bullets finding their mark. It was jumped by a six months old fox terrier.

Wise and Otherwise

"No, I'm sorry I can't marry you," said the lovely miss to the ardent suitor, "but I'll always admire your good taste."

CARRY YOUR ALKALIZER WITH YOU

The fastest way to "alkalize" is to carry your alkalizer with you. That's what thousands do now that genuine Phillips' comes in tiny, peppermint flavored tablets—in a flat tin for pocket or purse. Then you are always ready.
Use it this way. Take 2 Phillips' tablets—equal in "alkalizing" effect to 2 teaspoonsful of liquid Phillips' from the bottle. At once you feel "gas," nausea, "over-crowding" from hyper-acidity begin to ease. "Acid headaches," "acid breath," over-acid stomach are corrected at the source. This is the quick way to ease your own distress—avoid offense to others.

Bedtime Story for Children

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

REDDY FOX HIDES

REDDY FOX stole swiftly through the Green Forest in the direction of the pond of Paddy the Beaver. Reddy took the greatest care to keep out of sight of all the other little forest and meadow people. It would not do to let one of them see him because — well, because you know, he was supposed to be down on the Green Meadows. He had said that he had a very important errand down there which prevented him going to look for Buster Bear as Picky Porky had asked him to. Of course he hadn't had any errand down on the Green Meadows. It was just an excuse. The truth is he was afraid to look for Buster Bear. And so he had made up that excuse.

Then Jumper the Hare, who, you know, is one of the most timid of all the little people who live in the Green Forest, had offered to go look for Buster Bear. Reddy Fox didn't believe that Jumper really would dare do it, but if he should why would make a splendid dinner. Reddy's mouth watered at the thought.

Now it isn't for nothing that old Mother Nature gives things to her children and so, of course, there is a reason for the long ears of Jumper the Hare. It is that he may be able to hear the slightest noise so that he can run away from danger, for you know he cannot fight. So as he came through the Green Forest he kept stopping every few jumps to look and listen. He had almost reached the pile of brush behind which Reddy was hiding when his long ears caught just the tiniest weeniest sound. Perhaps in his eagerness Reddy rustled a tiny dead leaf. Anyway, Jumper stopped short and looked very hard at the pile of brush. Reddy held his breath and his yellow eyes looked very fierce and hungry. Still Jumper sat there looking and looking and looking. It seemed to Reddy as if he never would move.

Just as Reddy had about made up his mind to rush out and try to catch Jumper where he sat a heavy step sounded behind him. Reddy turned his head hastily. There was the big black stranger who had come to live in the Green Forest. Reddy didn't need to be told that it was Buster Bear. He gave one hasty look at the great claws on Buster's feet and then with a yelp of fright he tucked his tail between his legs and started for home as fast as he could run, the most frightened Fox who ever ran through the Green Forest.

Reddy Didn't Need to Be Told That It Was Buster Bear.

Reddy knew that everybody would say that he was a greater coward than Jumper, and would laugh at him ever after. There was just one thing to do and that was to give Jumper such a fright that he would forget all about Buster Bear. So as soon as he was out of sight of the other little people Reddy had turned into the Green Forest and run as fast as ever he could to head off Jumper the Hare.

Now, Reddy couldn't have done this had Jumper started in a great hurry to look for Buster Bear, because fast as Reddy can run Jumper can run faster. But Jumper had not been in a hurry and so it happened that Reddy was nicely hidden behind a big pile of brush when Jumper came hopping alone. When Reddy saw him coming he smiled and it was a wicked hungry smile. He had started out to scare Jumper, if he could. Jumper would make a very good dinner. Yes, indeed, he

MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

PEOPLE think I'm awful when I don't get my shoes shined, and I think I'm awful when I do. I sit up there on one of those bootblack's high chairs, with my legs stretched to the limit of my skirt and my face as red as my last summer's bathing suit. Honestly, I can't see why bootblacks don't build those silly foot rests closer together, so a girl can at least reach them without so much trouble.

But since they don't and since you do have to have shines, the best way around the awkwardness seems to be to take it knock-kneed. And however you pose when you sit for the bootblack, you want to be sure that you have a full-sized newspaper behind which to hide your face.

MONEY FOR MILK IS WELL SPENT

Most Valuable Food of All Others for Children.

By EDITH M. BARBER

A NATION of milk sops. We are proud to be classified as such in the literal, although, of course, not in the figurative sense of the term. To the fact that milk production, handling and distribution have kept pace with the growth of this huge country, we can give credit to a large extent for the fine physical development of American children.

Milk production is more than purchasing cows, feeding them and milking them. When milk is produced for market, the state takes a hand and inspects the herds for their healthfulness. There are also regulations in regard to cleanliness and sanitation of cow houses and milk houses. There must be facilities for keeping milk chilled until its distribution is begun. Sometimes it must travel many miles to the city distribution plant. It must, of course, be kept cold on its journey. At the milk plant it is weighed and inspected for cleanliness before it is pasteurized as a final precaution for the safety of your milk supply.

After the pasteurization or heating to 140 to 145 degrees Fahrenheit for half an hour, the milk is cooled quickly and then runs directly into sterilized bottles which are capped by machinery. The crates of bottles then go into a refrigerating room from which they are taken by the milkman who delivers them to you.

The safety of your supply of the most valuable food of all is thus guaranteed to you by both the city and state authorities. The money you pay for milk is well spent.

SELECTED RECIPES

Cheese Timbales.

- 4 eggs
- 1 cup hot milk
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon salt

Beat the eggs very light, add to them the hot milk, the grated cheese, green pepper, paprika and salt. Grease timbale molds, fill with the mixture, set in a baking pan of boiling water and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) until set. Turn out carefully on a hot platter. Serve at once with tomato or pimiento sauce if you wish.

Boiled Fresh Tongue.

- 1 fresh tongue
- ½ cup diced carrots
- ½ cup diced celery
- ½ cup diced onions
- 1 sprig parsley
- Salt
- Peppercorns

Put tongue in boiling water, add vegetables and seasonings and cook slowly until tender. Cool in the water, drain and remove skin.

Golden Cream Tapioca.

- 2 tablespoons granulated tapioca
- 2 cups scalded milk
- ½ cup brown sugar
- Salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Add the tapioca to the milk and cook in a double boiler about 15 minutes until it is transparent. Add the sugar and salt to the egg yolks, and to this add slowly some of the hot mixture. When thoroughly mixed add to the mixture in the double boiler and cook three minutes, constantly stirring. Remove the top of the double boiler, set in cold water and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Add the flavoring and pour into a pudding dish. Serve very cold.

Cottage Cheese Croquettes.

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Pepper
- 2 cups cottage cheese
- 2 cups mashed potato
- 1 tablespoon ground onion
- 1 egg well beaten
- Sifted bread crumbs

Prepare a white sauce of butter, milk, flour and seasoning. Stir in the cheese, potatoes and onion. Chill. Form into balls, roll in crumbs, then egg diluted with 1 tablespoon water, then crumbs again. Fry in deep hot fat, 305 degrees Fahrenheit. Drain and serve with tomato sauce.

Swedish Almond Cookies.

- ½ pound shelled almonds
- 3 egg whites
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Wash but do not skin almonds. Dry in a moderate oven ten to fifteen minutes and then put through a food chopper. Beat egg whites stiff. Fold in ground almonds, sugar, cinnamon and lemon rind and drop from a teaspoon onto a greased baking sheet. Bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees Fahrenheit, for fifteen minutes. Cool and store in a tightly covered container.

Stratford Sauce.

- ½ cup sour cream
- 2 tablespoons horseradish
- Salt, cayenne

Whip the cream and fold in other ingredients. Serve with cold meats.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

By Roger B. Whitman

SCREENS AND STORM SASH

WHEN insect screens come down in the fall, they are likely to be piled somewhere in attic or cellar without much thought as to putting them into condition for the following year. As a matter of fact, they are well worth caring for, and especially so if they are of copper or bronze netting. One neighbor of mine has worked out a plan that is about the best that I know.

He built his house four years ago, and as part of the construction, every window was fitted with an outside insect screen and with a storm sash. Screens and storm sash fit into the same spaces and are hooked on the same hangers, these being screwed to the upper crosspiece of the window frame. Each window is numbered, and there are identical numbers on the screen and storm sash that fit it.

In his cellar he built a cabinet deep enough to hold the storm sash when slid in edgewise, and of a width that just hold the entire set, placed side by side. The screens, of course, fit into the same cabinet. In the spring, the storm sashes come off the windows, and the screens go on in their places. The cabinet, emptied of the screens, is immediately refilled with the storm sashes. With its tight door, the cabinet protects its contents from dust, and there is no danger of breaking a pane of glass, or punching a hole through netting. This arrangement is strongly recommended.

With the end of the insect season, screens should be put into good condition before being stored away. Usually, brushing will be enough, although the frames may need a fresh coat of paint or of varnish.

With copper and bronze screening, there is frequent complaint of the staining of white paint by drip. This is due to the combination of copper salts with the zinc in white paint, and the stain is permanent. There is also a staining with straight lead paint, although this will wash off.

Staining can be prevented by coating the screening with varnish. Varnish cannot be used as it comes in the can, for by its thickness it will fill the meshes. A satisfactory mixture is one-half good spar varnish and one-quarter each linseed oil and turpentine. Before applying, the screening should be scrubbed with soap and water, and traces of the soap rinsed off with clear water. After drying, the screening should then be scrubbed with turpentine.

The easiest and quickest way to apply the varnish is with a piece of carpeting tacked to a block of wood to give the effect of a scrubbing brush. A little of the mixture is applied to the nap of the carpeting, and then rubbed on the screening. The varnish mixture will go on in a thin coat, which will be sufficient to protect the screening from moisture for a full season.

MOPSY

"Turbo-Fusee"

Monsieur Millet of France, the inventor of this vehicle, called it the "Turbo Fusee," but for practical purposes it is still an automobile. The strange road craft is equipped with a five-horsepower motor, which gives it a speed of 120 kilometers an hour. But the motor itself does not directly drive the car; it compresses the air which supplies the actual power. The inventor claims an increase of speed, reduction of fuel consumption and a bigger cruising radius.

Wool Is Going Places

LADY, lady, lady have you anything in wool? Smart women everywhere are clamoring for wool. They're wearing it to work in, to play in, to date in, to go to church in. Yes, wool is going places! Sew-Your-Own is here today (and will be here tomorrow) with three ultra-smooth new models for you to choose from—just to make sure you won't be a poor little lady without "something in wool" for Fall.

Needs Slim Lines.

That "something in wool" might well and easily be the handsome model at the left above. Especially does a weightier fabric need slim lines and here you have them pared down to hairline precision. The zipper from throat to hemline gives this frock additional chic, and the far-reaching collar takes care of that all-important need for contrast. French wine, black, duck green, and gendarme blue are the popular colors.

Compliment to Youth.

Youth and the blouse 'n' skirt have always gone sporting together. That's a compliment to youth and real flattery for the two-piece above, center. This engaging combination has a waist-coatish top and a simply cut, flaring skirt. A singular asset is its size range: 14 to 42. And because it is figure flattering every size is benefited. Acetate crepe is lovely for the blouse; velvet or thin wool is smart for the skirt.

For a Busy Body.

If you're a busy body or a lady of legion labors, you'll thank Sew-Your-Own for the charming new frock at the right. Now is the time to cut two versions: one in gingham for housework, another as your "something in wool" in the long sleeve style for all occasions. Remember then, double your chances for day-in, day-out chic with this one becoming model and save one-third on time and one-half on the price of your new Fall wardrobe assets.

The Patterns.

Pattern 1375 is designed for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 40 bust). Size 14 requires 2½ yards of 54-inch material. With short sleeves, 3½ yards of 39-inch material. Collar and cuffs in contrast take five-eighths of a yard. Pattern 1302 is designed for sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material.

"God of the 2.5"

The honor of being the most romantic ship figurehead in existence goes to "Tecumseh," which was taken from the United States navy's ship Delaware, launched in 1820. The figurehead now stands on the campus of the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis.

To cadets it's "God of the 2.5"—that being the academy's passing mark for examinations. Brash indeed is the cadet who does not stand and venerate "Tecumseh" before exam time.

The weather-beaten old Indian pleads with the gods of chance for the cadets in other things, too. As the regiment marches off to the Army-Navy football game, each company stops and solemnly salutes "Tecumseh."

14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material.

Pattern 1382 is designed for sizes 34 to 48. Size 38 requires 2½ yards of 54-inch material with long sleeves; 3¾ yards of 39-inch material with short sleeves.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

This region is "by way of being discovered" since the coming of the new coast highway. Cars line up every Saturday and Sunday along the beaches, and roadhouses do a big business. Fishing has been increasingly successful, and some great catches are reported at Rockaway, Pedro Valley and Shelter Cove. Striped bass are running off shore in immense numbers and good weight and size. The new name for Pedro seems to puzzle visitors, who say they want salt water fishing, and naturally enough they pass up any place called a valley, and make for a beach or a point. But this is a matter that may be cleared up as the locality becomes better known. Rumor has it that the Pedro Valley post office is soon to be on the map and established in the Blum store, where Hector Martin has made the boxes, etc.

Pedro people who have not their own car, are eagerly looking forward to the re-routing of the S. F. bus along the new highway, which will make it possible to avoid the long walk over the old road in the early morning and night. Some neighbors are delightfully generous in the matter of taking on a free passenger for the trip to town, but wagging a thumb at a few unwilling others is an unhappy experience that will gladly be dismissed when the bus re-routes along the near road. Herman Bryant had full pages of splendid photographs taken the first night of the grand opera season in San Francisco, last week. The pictures were top-notchers, probably the best in the city press, but the chief photographer of the News was glad to get his day of rest when the layout was safely spread on the pages.

Miss Estelle Rogers of San Francisco and Chicago, is visiting in Pedro Valley.

The new garage on Belfast avenue, Pedro Valley, just completed for Mr. and Mrs. Beaver of San Francisco, was occupied for the first time last Friday night, when its glow of lights made a welcome addition to the neighbors' illuminations on the nearby slopes. This locality is becoming noted for the marvelous quality of sleep its air gives to those who find it difficult to sleep in the city, but the Beavers declare that the stillness on the Pedro hillside is so intense that it kept them awake!

The George Nielsens entertained a number of guests at a barbecue in their pretty garden, last Sunday noon.

Mr. Harry Danmann is back at his home again, after a lengthy visit to the Bob Scots. Mrs. Danmann is still suffering from the serious auto accident that sent her to the hospital several months ago, but she is active in her home and feeling considerably improved. She and Mr. Danmann were able to attend the recent meeting of the Pedro Valley Improvement Association and see their friends and neighbors again.

Shelter Cove reports splendid fishing and safe swimming these warm, lovely days, and many picnickers drive down from town to bask on the sands of the curved beach and have dinner there.

Mrs. Peter Haugaard, who lives at the Cove, drove a party of friends and her daughter, Claudia, to Berkeley and back, last Sunday.

The sod roof of the new Johnson cottage at Pedro Valley is doing well and growing green in the moist air from the sea. The Jonhsens are planning to sow flower seeds in the roof grass, which will make a novel and decorative item in the local scenery. The wreath that they hung above the roof peak to celebrate the completion of the house, represented a Swedish custom, both graceful and picturesque.

The Fred Bohrs are still enjoying a vacation at their beautiful summer home at Pedro Valley. Mr. Bohr delights in song birds, and when here, he does all he possibly can to protect them from harm and he provides food for them, as well as an artistic pool where they can bathe and drink. If everyone were as fond of song birds as Fred Bohr is, we would have more music in our woods, and fewer sportsmen with guns to hunt and kill. A number of residents set out water and crumbs for the birds. Mrs. Beck Johnson has a tray filled with seeds on her kitchen window sill and several water pans set out for her bird friends, and she watches with pleasure the lovely winged creatures flying into her garden. Mrs. Karl Strutz, too, has a tiled bird bath in a sunny spot in her garden. Mrs. Waldorf welcomes birds to her garden domain, as do many of her neighbors. Cats, however, growl increasingly among the bushes, and while they are reputed to eat gophers, still one surmises that they finish up the repast with birds for dessert, alas!

Jim Troglia has a fine new business car for the delivery of his wines to San Francisco and locally. The old one was a deep maroon. The new one is solid black, and extremely handsome. By this time little Loraine Peterson has the ride she was begging her good friend, Jim, to give her. Congratulations on the elegant new car! It lends distinction to the town of Rockaway Beach.

The Clyde Garners are busy in their garden these bright days, making paths and terracing and setting in stepping-stones.

Clifton avenue needs more turnouts along its road, with the increased traffic, especially for night use.

The new addition to the Jack-and-Jill house is finished, and it looks to be "a mighty fine job." There's good fishing for "Jack," and good hiking for "Jill," these lovely autumn days.

Karl Strutz is busy with his clubs and labor organizations, Gladys says he attends meetings almost every night, and she usually goes along, too. Their dog climbs to the roof, via a plank set on the edge of the bank behind the house, and paces to and fro for hours, watching for his "folks" to get home and give him his supper. From a distance the dog looks like some sort of strange ornament set up to adorn the roof.

Mrs. Glover, who suffered a bad accident to her ankle months ago, still walks with a cane, but she is recovering the use of it, and anticipates being able to walk "as good as ever," some day.

A nine and one-half pound girl was born to Mrs. Eskenberry of Rockaway, at 2 p. m., October 18, at the San Mateo Hospital.

George Dennison and family of Modesto, spent the week-end visiting at the home of Officer Jack Harrison at Rockaway Beach.

Mrs. Coletha Bailey went to San Francisco on Wednesday to do some shopping.

June Scot rode "Sugar," the Rees pinto pony to the top of the new highway at Camel Rock last Monday and reports the going very good.

FELIX WARBURG DIES AT 66

FELIX WARBURG

Felix M. Warburg, 66, member of the powerful banking family of two continents and noted philanthropist, who died at his home in New York, October 20. He was president of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Warburg, born in Germany, became a naturalized American citizen in 1900, married the daughter of Banker Jacob Schiff. He is survived by his widow, four sons and a daughter, Mrs. Carola Rothschild.

Two Are Honored At Birthday Party

A double birthday party, held at the residence of Mrs. Vera Blaii, was one of the highlights in Brisbane social activities last week.

Honorees were Mrs. Helen Johns and Mrs. Emma Fredrick, who received many beautiful gifts. Guests were Mesdames Strassburg, Drummond, Lamonte, Lummis and Kinney. They enjoyed lunch and bridge.

WHIST ANNOUNCED

Tanforan Post No. 2517, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is giving a turkey whist party in N. D. Hall, San Bruno, Wednesday evening of next week.

There will be many valuable awards.

GUILT A QUILT

The physical education class of the Brisbane P. T. A., under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Morley, quilted a quilt last week.

The money acquired was turned over to the P. T. A. The girls enjoyed the work and are going to have regular sewing days.

STATION OPENS RADIO CONTEST

Amateur Announcers Granted Opportunity To Try For Big Prizes At KQW

Radio station KQW in San Jose is offering a contest for potential Graham McNamees in the form of radio announcing tryouts. Running for ten weeks, the competition has been opened to the San Jose State College student body. Participants are required to give commercial announcements, news, read poetry and "ad lib" for one minute from a situation built up for them.

The program will run every Thursday for a half hour, beginning at 7:30, at the studio of KQW on San Antonio street in San Jose. Auditions will be held the previous day at 8 at the studios.

Prizes will be awarded to the winner of each weekly contest. The ten winners will then enter the semi-finals, with the eventual winner taking $50; second place, $15; and third place, $5.

ILLEGAL ACT TO PASS OTHER CAR ON THE RIGHT

Motorists who pass to the right of another car moving in the same direction on a highway violate the law, but the frequency of the offense indicates that many drivers are unaware that such passing is illegal.

Under only one condition is passing on the right on a highway permissible by law. That is when the car ahead is making a left turn or has signalled intention to do so. With this exception, passing on the right

THE SINGING MARINE

Dick Powell whose crooning creates an international complication in the Far East—background for "The Singing Marine," showing at the Bayshore Theater Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

is legal only on city streets wide enough for the movement of two lanes of traffic in each direction.

Motorists are also required by law to pull over to the right and allow an overtaking car to pass on being signalled by the sound of a horn or other audible warning. Even though a motorist may be driving at the legal maximum speed, he must give way to the overtaking car.

On three lane highways the car first to move into the center lane for the purpose of passing has the right of way over another car subsequently entering the center lane from the opposite direction, but must return to the right hand lane after passing.

An important safety rule is that of keeping to the right as far as is reasonably possible at all times because failure to do so tends to nullify the margin of safety as well as the traffic capacity of wide, modern highways with their plainly marked traffic lanes.

POPULAR SERIES WILL CONTINUE ANOTHER WEEK

Time on Coward Play Cycle Is Extended As Program Draws Big Attendance

The popularity of the Noel Coward cycle of nine short plays now at the Curran, San Francisco, has proved so great a public draw that the management has been forced to extend the run an extra week to begin Monday night, October 25. The repertoire for this extra week is as follows: Monday and Tuesday nights, October 25 and 26, "Family Album," "Still Life" and "Hands Across the Sea"; Wednesday matinee and night, October 27, and Thursday night, October 28, "Ways and Means," "Fumed Oak" and "Shadow Play"; Friday night, October 29, "We Were Dancing," "The Astonished Heart" and "Red Pepper," and the special request program announced for Saturday matinee and night, October 30, "Red Peppers," "Fumed Oak" and "Hands Across the Sea." It is further announced that extension of the engagement beyond Saturday night, October 30, will be impossible due to booking arrangements that will carry the company across the continent.

The cast, headed by Estelle Winwood, Bramwell Fletcher, Helen

Chandler, and Jessie Royce Landi is superb, so good, in fact, that it could be called an all-star cast.

The plays that are being offered during the week of October 18 are "We Were Dancing," a comedy of love in two scenes; "The Astonished Heart," a melodrama in six scenes; and the vaudeville satire with music "Red Peppers." Playgoers will have their first opportunity of seeing Miss Landis, who was brought from New York to play in "Red Peppers" opposite Bramwell Fletcher. Miss Royce is one of the leading stars of the New York stage and has also appeared in the Coward cycle with Noel Coward himself, during the run in New York. During the week of October 18, Miss Mary Astor will be seen as guest artist.

Phantom Gunman Snipes At Vehicle

Police are puzzled by shots at vehicles en route from Mills Field to San Francisco.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

FEW husbands can understand why a wife should turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month. You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. If you're wise and if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife; take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

DOAN'S PILLS

"So we're off to be married! That's all right with me," Jerry Field approved fervently.

Brooke, whose face was pressed against the back window of the roadster, twisted round in her seat. "Don't be foolish, Jerry. Of course we're not. That was a red herring drawn across our trail."

"Just why the red herring?" The ironic note in his voice gave her a chill tremor of dismay; she didn't care for the way in which his eyes narrowed as they peered through the wind shield. She protested:

"Don't speak like that, it makes me shivery, and goodness knows my teeth are fairly chattering now." She turned to peer from the rear window. "No car in sight yet. Can you go a little faster?"

"Not without a risk of skidding off the causeway and breaking our necks. Can't you see how the snow is plastering the wind shield. The squeegee barely moves. Why the haste?"

"While I'm telling you I'll keep watch. The excitement began upon my return from the play."

She told him of leaving her town car in the garage, of stopping in the purple gloom under the hemlock to look at the lighted windows of the stone houses crouched on the ledge; her breath quickened as she repeated the words of the man who had produced the newspaper clipping:

"It's the picture of the dame who said: 'He was a swell-dressed fella!' 'I'll have to date her up.'"

"That was what the Cassidy girl said about the man they suspect robbed Mrs. Hunt!"

Field's voice was sharp, his personal problem was submerged in a mounting tide of excitement. The car shot ahead like a whippet unleashed.

"I know that now. The certainty as to who he was flashed through my mind while I was dressing, and the suspicion that he might be at the Other House tonight to lift—that's the technical term, isn't it—Mrs. Gregory's gorgeous diamonds."

"Why didn't you phone the police?"

"With Henri in the house? I may be a slow thinker but I'm not absolutely dumb."

"And the suitcase?"

"A touch of theater. I thought if one of the gang saw us starting, he might suspect he had been discovered, but if he heard what I told Taku he would feel secure. Elopements happen every day."

"Not in my young life," Jerry Field retorted crisply.

They maintained a breathless, alert silence until the roadster turned a corner into a street which had an air of lonely spaciousness. Just ahead bulked the combination jail and police headquarters, gloomy and ponderous.

"Shall I come in with you?" Field asked, as he stopped the roadster before a heavy iron door and cut off his engine.

"Yes. I may need you to corroborate my story. When I burst in upon them in this gown, they may think I'm crazy. Hurry! We don't know what is going on at the Other House."

Field slipped his arm within hers as they mounted the snowy steps. "I'll stick around and wait till you call me. Don't shiver, sweet thing. You're not afraid of the inspector, are you?"

"Afraid! No. Haven't I been cross-examined by him almost every day since what Sam calls 'our late unpleasantness'? It's just the Reyburn temperament."

Her satin sandals skidded treacherously in the corridor as she confronted a policeman whose nose, criss-crossed with a network of fine veins, had the effect of a red "stop" signal.

"Where's the inspector? I must see him. Matter of life and death," she confided breathlessly. In her excitement she caught the man's arm and shook it. He scowled at her, looked beyond her at Jerry Field; his expression mellowed.

"Inspector's just come in. He's in the radio division. Go through those swinging doors up them stairs to the tower."

Brooke was through the doors before the man had finished speaking. Three or four men leaning over a great U-shaped table looked up as she entered the room. With a muttered exclamation, the inspector left them and came forward.

A man sitting at a telephone said something in a low voice to an officer before a microphone. Tubes in the broadcasting apparatus crackled into life. He said slowly and distinctly into the mike:

"Calling car 3131. Car 3131. Car 3131. Go to K and Tenth street."

Brooke commanded breathlessly: "Listen to me, Inspector. The man who robbed Lola Hunt is serving supper at the Trent house on the point!"

Inspector Bill Harrison smiled, a curious smile. "Wish I'd known this before, Miss Reyburn. I've just come from the point, following a tip I had. What's the dope on this bandit? Is it the same guy you saw at the Supper club?"

"It must be, Inspector. Tonight—" Before she had finished telling of the alleged waiter's remark about Maggie Cassidy's picture, machinery was crackling again and the man at the microphone was broadcasting distinctly:

"Calling car 1942. Car 1942. Car 1942. Go to Trent house on point. Inspector will meet you. Calling car 6784. Car 6784. Car 6784. Go to Trent house on point. Inspector will meet you."

Inspector Bill Harrison was out of the room before the man at the microphone had completed the call. One of the officers turned over two discs on the U-table; the other frowned at her with the bluest, most Irish eyes she ever had seen as he answered her unspoken question:

"We don't dare be more explicit over the mike, Miss. The thugs pick up the messages."

"I hope they get there in time, Sergeant?"

"Time for what, Miss?"

"I think—I think he's there to get Mrs. Gregory's diamonds—she's—she's simply plastered with them tonight."

Jerry Field was pacing the lower corridor when she reached it.

"It's about time you appeared, Brooke! I was just coming up to look for you. What do we do next?"

"Back to the party of course."

The wind whirled her short hair, clutched at her satin skirts, tugged at her velvet wrap as they went down the jail steps. As Jerry Field tucked the robe about her wet feet he looked up. Snow had settled in the brim of his soft hat, whitened his shoulders.

"Let's make a break for town, sweet thing, and make that yarn you told Taku the truth."

The expression in his eyes, the break in his voice hurt her. She said unsteadily:

"Please, Jerry! I can't care for you that way. Take me back quickly, will you? We mustn't miss Sam's party."

"Oh Sam! Sam is your white-haired boy. He's all that you Reyburn women think of or care about. I believe you'd sell your soul for him!"

After one look at his grim mouth and gloomy eyes, Brooke snuggled into her corner of the seat.

They sped in silence through the night. Toward the east the drab, heavy clouds were thinning before a spreading radiance.

"I believe the snow is letting up, Jerry. Look! The moon is trying to break through! Drive faster. I can't wait to know what has happened."

"Don't worry, you'll get to the party all right."

Brooke ignored his gruffness. "Of course I want to get to the party. Then I shan't feel guilty that I dragged you away from the fun and congratulations. Leave me at Look-out House. I must change these soaked sandals before I join the festivities. Here we are."

From the top of the steps she looked down at Field who was looking up at her.

"I'm sorry, Jerry," she whispered softly, before she entered the house and closed the door behind her.

"He doesn't really love me, he's a spoiled boy who wants what he can't have," she reassured herself, as in her boudoir she changed her wet sandals.

She readjusted the rhinestone and emerald clip on her white frock, sprayed perfume on her hair, powdered her nose, accented her lips. She shook her head at the looking-glass girl.

"Stalling, aren't you, Brooke Reyburn? You dread to face Mark Trent with that will you've kept back for two days, don't you? Get going!"

She crossed to the desk, found the key where she had hidden it.

"Zero hour," she said aloud, and unlocked the drawer in which she had placed the will.

She looked down. The drawer was empty.

CHAPTER XIV

People coming, but not going; music never stopping. It was that kind of a party.

To the accompaniment of the hum of voices, the stimulating beat and throb of the orchestra, the distant faint tinkle of silver and glass,

Sam Reyburn made slow progress through the gay, colorful crowd on the lower floor of the Other House, grinning at girls in lovely evening frocks who cooed over him; frowning at men who tried to detain him.

From where he stood on the lowest step of the circular stairway, Mark Trent watched him. "All this praise is heady stuff for a boy," he thought, and then reminded himself that Sam wasn't a boy. Why wasn't Brooke with him to share the honors? She had been the first to leave the hall, the man in charge of the parked cars had told him. Where was Jerry Field? He hadn't appeared either.

A curious premonition turned him cold. Of course Brooke hadn't meant it when in answer to his sarcastic suggestion she had said she would end Field's torment. Hadn't she? There had been infinite determination in her crisp retort:

"I will. Tonight."

"Seen Brooke, Mark?" Sam Reyburn inquired as he approached. "I want her to be the first to know that I'm to get a contract; that I have an option in my pocket and a check."

Mark Trent laid his hand affectionately on his shoulder.

"Great stuff, Sam, great stuff. I was sure that the New York producer was hooked when he spoke to me."

Sam grinned. "Offered you the lead in a Broadway production, didn't he? He's a publicity hound. Think of the headlines:

"Leading Insurance Executive Leaves Lucrative Business for the Stage." Will you do it?"

"What do you think? How's the party going, Mrs. Gregory?"

Mark Trent smiled at the woman whose blazing tiara on her marcelled white hair, and plastron of diamonds on her purple velvet gown dimmed what sparkle life had left in her tired eyes. She answered crisply:

"Listen to the hubbub and you won't ask the question. Your party has brought out tails and white ties, Mark, that's a triumph in itself. I always know what guests think of my parties by the way they dress for them." She patted Sam's sleeve.

"My boy, your play is the sweetest, loveliest, most heart-wringing thing I've seen on the stage for years. Where's your sister? I want to tell her what I think of it."

"That's what Mark and I were wondering. She left the hall before the rest of us; she told me before the first curtain was rung up that she would dash home to change for the party."

Mrs. Gregory's face grew a shade less colorful. "I don't like her not being here, I don't like it. I've been uneasy about that girl every moment since she testified at the inquest about the strange man who passed through her room the night of the filling station hold-up. The man hasn't been caught. She knows too much. They may try to put her out of the way."

The strong lenses in Sam's horn-rimmed spectacles magnified the horror in his eyes.

"What an awful suggestion, Mrs. Gregory! What a gosh-awful thought!"

It was an awful thought, but improbable, most improbable, Mark Trent assured himself. With difficulty he cleared his voice of hoarseness before he accused:

"You've been reading mystery stories, Empress, confess now, haven't you? Just the same, we'll start on Brooke's trail at once. What is it, Kowa?"

He spoke sharply to the servant who had wormed his way through the crowd of dancers who overflowed from the library to the hall.

"Much obliged, Madame Gregory's car here. Chauffeur say to tell her storm bad, very bad. She better get home. He know she not like to be out in storm."

"Tell him to wait. I won't go till I know where Brooke is," Mrs. Gregory snapped.

"Did you see Miss Reyburn come in, Kowa?" Mark Trent inquired. Of course, the suggestion that she was in danger was absurd, but it was getting under his skin.

The Jap's slanting eyes narrowed to mere slits. He put his lips close to Mark Trent's ear and whispered:

"Miss Reyburn tell Taku she and Mr. Field go to marry, thank you. She carry suitcase, sir."

"What!"

Had he shouted the word? Mark's eyes flashed from Mrs. Gregory to Sam Reyburn. Both were regarding him anxiously, but apparently neither had caught the content of Kowa's whisper.

"Has anything happened to Brooke?" Mrs. Gregory's lips twitched, tears filled her eyes. Sam caught Trent's arm.

"What did Kowa say? What did he say?"

Mark Trent steadied his mind. He must reply to their questions. What should he say? He couldn't blurt out the truth here. Perhaps Brooke had flung that remark at Taku for dramatic effect. But the suitcase—

"Mark! Mark! Why don't you answer?"

He looked down into Mrs. Gregory's eyes, terrified now.

"Brooke is perfectly safe. She—There's Field! Ask him where she is. He saw her last. Go get him, Sam! Go get him!"

"No need, he's coming as fast as he can push through the dancers, and Jed Stewart is at his heels. They are white as sheets. What's all the mystery? The air is full of it. My skin's turning to gooseflesh. For Pete's sake, where's Brooke, Jerry?"

87 SPEED RECORDS BROKEN TO MAKE TIRES SAFER FOR YOU

Never Before Have Tires Been Put to Such Gruelling Torture

AT SPEEDS as high as 180 miles an hour—with the hot, coarse, abrasive salt grinding, tearing, scorching his tires—Ab Jenkins' special racer, weighing nearly three tons, pounded over the Bonneville Salt Beds at such terrific speed that it caused the surface to break up. Before the end of the run the track was so pitted and rough that it was almost impossible to hold the car on its course. Yet Jenkins set 87 new World, International and American speed records on Firestone Tires.

Building tires capable of establishing such records is made possible by patented Firestone manufacturing processes. These exclusive features enable Firestone to provide car owners with extra safe tires.

For the greatest protection equip your car with Firestone TRIPLE-SAFE Tires. By TRIPLE-SAFE we mean—

1 PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—The scientific tread design stops your car up to 25% quicker.

2 PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—The Firestone patented Gun-Dipping process counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

3 PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—Two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread give extra protection against punctures.

Make your car tire-safe for fall and winter driving. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by letting your Firestone Dealer or Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store equip your car with a set of new FIRESTONE TRIPLE-SAFE Tires—the safest tires that money can buy!

YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO DRIVE WITHOUT FIRESTONE TRIPLE-SAFE TIRES

Last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 28,000 men, women and children and a million more were injured! More than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires!

BRISBANE LOCAL NEWS

By ROY EDWARDS

The current drop in the stock market caused a lot of the boys loss of plenty of sleep. Stan Hopkins for one, did plenty of phoning to his broker the last few days. I heard he had plenty to get nervous over.

Marse Lou Terry is sporting a fine looking Dodge sedan these days, and he seems to be quite elated over its performance. Bill Wimmer and the boys were in Salt Lake City twenty hours after leaving Brisbane—don't blame me if that sounds incredible—I got the information from Woody Dotherow. George Radoff attempted last Saturday to show some of the young bucks how to play football—you could hear his rheumatic bones creaking a block away. Jack Perkins and his wife, Grace, seem to enjoy visiting our town, for on every available occasion they are visiting with their grandmother, Mrs. Page. Mrs. Martha Probst celebrated her birthday a couple of days ago and all her daughters vied to see who would get her the best gift. Now it wouldn't be right to mention who won. Walt Blair was all blossomed out in a new pair of army trousers for the Food Show last week. The lad was about worn out after two trips to town. Seems his mother didn't like the first pair, so like a good boy Walt went back and changed them. Mrs. Gordon Minnick says it seems like a month already that Gordon has been gone, and he still has three weeks to go on his vacation in Virginia. If the fellow that turned in the false alarm is reading this column, may he be informed that his license number of his car has been forwarded to the State Motor Vehicle Department for identification and a charge placed in the State Warden's office where action will be taken when the identity of the culprit is ascertained. Perhaps in the near future we will be fortunate enough to jail a few of the grown up children who harass small communities like ours. Joe Teechi and his co-owners have hauled their yacht back to dry dock. It seems that something is amiss with the ballast which prevents proper sailing on the water—so they say. That's all.

THEATER GROUP IS PRESENTING CLASSIC SATIRE

Modern Parody on Greek Myth Begins at Alcazar; Wins Popular Support

Men are relegated to household duties and women conduct the affairs of a warlike state in "The Warrior's Husband," brilliant and highly humorous comedy by Julian Thompson, that opened at the Alcazar Theater, Wednesday evening, October 20. The play is a travesty on ancient Greek mythology. It reverses the traditional roles of the sexes, yet makes a sizable horde of Amazons triumphantly charming.

The play is based largely on the mythical ninth labor of Hercules, which, as you may recall, was the recovery of Diana's girdle. The girdle, mythology tells us, was inherited by a queen of the Amazons and possessed the power of making its owners the dominant sex. Its loss provides one of the high situations of the comedy, situations that put the audience into kinks of mirth. The story involves: Hippolyta, queen of the Amazons (Beatrice Newport); Antiope, (Ann Pendleton); Sapiens (Barney Brown); Homer (Robert Clarke); Theseus (Max West); Pomposia, wealthy munitions making matron (Ruth Saville); Hercules (David Cole); Heroica (Marta Golden); Gaganus (Solly Carter); Geraldine Allan, Kay Pickering, Marie Bell and many others of equal merit.

"The Warrior's Husband" is the first of the new series of plays to be produced by the Federal Theater Project in pursuance of its new policy of presenting "shows the public demands." An excellent start has been made, if the first night audience is any criterion. The theater as usual was packed to the last row in the gallery and reservations are reported from practically every county in northern California.

Brisane Cleaners Announce Opening

Tiny Burns, Brisbane's ace promoter and tallest man west of the Rockies, has decided to make the home town moth proof and clothes conscious.

He is arduously performing his latest mission in the new cleaning establishment at 280 Visitacion ave.

His brother, "Bar Mogul" Bob will testify at the drop of a hat that he is not supplying Tiny with cleaning fluid from his spigots.

Jefferson Pupils Present Program At Burlingame Hi

Members of Jefferson Union High School, Tuesday afternoon of this week, visited Burlingame High to put on an assembly program. This was one of the exchange programs between high schools of the peninsula. The programs are intended to promote a spirit of fellowship between students of the schools of the county.

The program, presented by Jefferson, consisted of vocal duets by the Crawford sisters; several solos by Albert Marucci, who was a great success in last year's exchange program at San Mateo; Beverly Robischung, another favorite, rendered several vocal numbers; and Jean Palmer provided a dancing act.

The Vernazza twins created a Venetian atmosphere with the accordions and Marjorie Fuchs and Melba Warren contributed a Western comedy. Robert Runge acted as master of ceremonies.

This program was arranged by William Hoppe, dramatics coach at Jefferson.

INDIANS SWAMP VIKINGS 13-0 IN EPIC GAME

Campagno Snags Palo Alto Pass And Runs 65 Yards For Touchdown

Tired of being the stepping stone for other teams, the Jefferson Indians, last Saturday, came into their own to completely overwhelm the Palo Alto Vikings on their own field, 13-0. Palo Alto got their only chance to score in the first quarter when they reached the Jefferson ten yard line only to be stalemated.

Jefferson opened the second quarter by starting a drive which ended in a touchdown pass from Roy Wilson to Bob Clarke. Palo Alto came back with a passing attack which reached the Jefferson twenty yard line, but the gun sounded to end the first half with Jefferson leading 6-0.

In the second half Jefferson showed a slight edge in defensive strength. The thrilling moment of the game was Campagno's interception of a Palo Alto pass and his run of 65 yards to a touchdown.

McCune then dropkicked for the conversion to put the game practically on ice for Jefferson. The return of Simpson, Olson and Balletto to the team gave Jefferson its whole first string for the first time since the Balboa game at the start of the season.

Eldrup played the outstanding game of the day, tackling hard and getting in on almost all of the plays. In the backfield Balletto, Simpson and Campagno all played brilliantly. Art Wright called a very good game as well as making many good blocks and tackles.

McCune and Clarke played their usual heads up football at end positions for the Indians.

Official Re-Elected To J. C. Body Post

Roland Abercrombie of the commerce department of the San Mateo Junior College was re-elected secretary treasurer of the Northern California Junior College Association when 300 faculty members met for the fall convention at the University of California, Berkeley.

Fred Klyver, college science instructor, was named state chairman of conservation by the California Garden Clubs, Inc., at the recent convention in Del Monte. Under his guidance as chairman, eleven district chairmen supervise the work of 100 or more garden clubs in California.
